“Climate Change: Bearing Witness, Taking Action, Nurturing Hope” with Richard Gammon

Dr. Richard Gammon, a member of University Unitarian Church in Seattle is a retired professor of chemistry, oceanography and atmospheric sciences at the University of Washington, and has worked on global teams to monitor and assess climate change. In retirement, he works very actively to help improve public understanding of climate change, for effective response.

*May we remember that Love has no hands but our hands, no face but our face.
We are called to serve others, with love.*

Drop-In Choir, Today

All who like to sing are invited to join the drop-in choir for the service this morning, Sunday, August 21. We gather at 9:15 AM in the Sanctuary to learn and practice the music.

Congratulations!

To Blaise Ntakarutimana, who received notification from the US Department of Homeland Security that he has been granted asylum! Now the work begins to bring his family here – a completely different process, through the US Immigration Department. Thanks to everyone who has helped support Blaise so far – there is more to do and so much joy to share.

Meet Rachel Kohler, New RE Associate at UUFC, Today

Our new Religious Exploration Associate is Rachel Kohler, who has recently moved to Corvallis after working with Americorps in Douglas County for several years. Rachel has lots of experience in theatre, teaching and working with youth. She is beginning her work with Michael Molk, the Director of Religious Exploration, to assist him in curriculum development, volunteer recruitment, and the week-to-week tasks necessary for running our RE program.

Meet Rachel today at a table in the foyer, where she'll be registering children and teens for the September start-up of RE, and looking for some more adults to complete RE teaching teams for the coming year. Our theme for RE this year is "What do UU Believe? and" "What are UU Made of?" We'll be exploring UU Identity, Spiritual Practices, and Having Courage. Please come introduce yourself to Rachel, and welcome her to the Fellowship.

August Youth Raft Trip on the Willamette River

Sunday, August 28th, raft trip on the Willamette for 9th-12th grade youth and their advisors. Call DRE Michael Molk for more information: 541-908-5456.

Reading on Racism

Thanks to all who are working to learn more about systemic racism, as a way to give grounding to our justice work. Several discussion groups are now planned, through the Connect Up schedule. You can join any of these groups. The suggested reading includes: The Third Reconstruction by William J. Barber; Just Mercy by Bryan Stevenson; Between the World and Me by Ta-Nehisi Coates; The New Jim Crow by Michelle Alexander; White Fragility by Robin DiAngelo; The Hidden Wound by Wendell Berry; and the essay "Whose Earth Is It Anyway?" by James H. Cone (which looks at links between racism and environmental degradation). An additional title is America's Original Sin: Racism, White Privilege, and the Bridge to a New America by Jim Wallis.

Study and Conversations on Racism

Beginning in September and October, the Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Task Force will facilitate several ways to join in conversations about racism, including book discussions and chalice-group-style conversations. Wouldn't it be amazing if all or most of the Fellowship took part in some aspect of this work? All are invited, all are needed. See the September UUFC newsletter for details.

Rummage Sale, Saturday August 27

The Rummage Sale will be held this Saturday from 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM. It's an extravaganza of Reduce, Re-use, Recycle. Instead of buying new, come peruse the sale to find what you need. Bring friends and neighbors.

Annual Labor Day Tuna Roast and All Fellowship Picnic

Sept 5, 3:00 PM at the Avery Park Lions Shelter. A UUFC tradition for 20 years now: the Labor Day potluck and tuna roast! Bring a side dish or dessert to share and choose a volunteer job. For more information, contact Rich Brainerd (541-752-2930).

Save the Date: September 25

After the Sunday service, for congregation-wide input on next steps in our building renovation project.
