“Different Ways to Wait”

with Rev. Jill McAllister

We are in a time of waiting, to see what will emerge from a time of much strife. We hope for the best, and it is hard to feel settled. Over time, much has been learned in and from waiting, and it might help us to consider some of those lessons.

Courage means to have in our hearts the bravery to do what we must, even when we are scared. May we be brave.

Needed: Help with young children during 9:30 AM Sunday worship

We're seeing more children, ages 4-5-6, coming to the Fellowship with their parents during Sunday 9:30 AM worship. We need to add a play session for these children, separate from the infant/toddler care already provided at that time. You can still attend 11:00 AM worship while helping with this much-needed service. To volunteer, speak with DLRE Michael Molk or RE Associate Rachel Kohler or email molk@uucorvallis.org.

This First Steps class is offered every 4th Sunday during the school year at the new time of 11:10 AM. For more information, contact the First Steps coordinator, Elona Meyer (elonameyer@msn.com). Each quarter, we also offer two classes as part of the formal membership exploration process – UU Path and Membership. Register at the Welcome Table on Sundays.
