Climate Justice Month at UUFC

Beginning today, March 22 (World Water Day) through Earth Day, April 21, many at the UUFC are joining with UU's in other congregations around the country in a month of activities to raise our awareness of and participation in action to alleviate climate change. Jointly sponsored by the Unitarian Universalist Association and the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee, this project is called Commit2Respond. The UUFC Climate Justice Committee and RE staff have produced a booklet for you to take home and use with your family and friends. It includes readings and suggested activities for all ages.

On April 11, we'll host an afternoon of lectures and workshops aimed at providing concrete information about actions you can take and join. Supper will be provided, and all are invited to stay for the Emma's Revolution concert to finish the day with singing and joy! All are invited – tell your neighbors and friends.

Thank you for helping us “tend the flame!”

We are now half way through our month-long annual pledge drive -- our annual opportunity to consider again what we value most here, and to recommit to supporting it financially. Thank you to the 94 couples or individuals who have already pledged! So far we have pledged $166,671.00 on our way to our goal of $418,000.

If you haven't pledged yet, we invite you to pause to read and think about the pledge materials we have written; have a conversation with yourself, your partner, and others at the UUFC; and then pledge. The work of our church depends on each of us including you, and, as we did last year, we have a goal of 100% participation this month.

For the first time ever, we are offering access to pledge materials online. Simply go to our website (uucorvallis.org) to find the pledge materials on the home page. You will also find an online pledging form that makes pledging easier than ever before! If you did not respond to our surveys telling us that you would prefer electronic access, we mailed pledge materials to you, which you should have by now. However, if you choose, you can still opt to pledge the easy way – online.

If you have any questions, concerns, or simply want to have a conversation with one of us about pledging, we would love to talk with you! You can contact any one of us personally, or use our committee e-mail: stewardship@uucorvallis.org.
UUFC Stewardship Committee: Virginia Shapiro (chair)
